The South in Chains—The Lodge Bill.

Mr. Speaker Rerp's rulings and the adoption of those rulings as regular rules for the government of the House of Representatives are matters to which the attention of our readers has been invited again and again. Republican State Conventions of last year declared in favor of the projection of the negro in all his rights—a declaration which was well known to be the claration which was well known to be the hypocrites' method of coming out for a believe in States' rights to a certain extent. | case to-morrow. law to perpetuate Republican tyranny. Our readers were then warned that a movement was on foot to restore the condition of things which existed in the southern States during reconstruction days. Substantially, the bill to place the elections of the members of the national House of Representatives, introduced into that body last Saturday by Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, is a bill to restore in the southern States the rule of carpet-baggers, scalawags, and ignorant negroes-a bill to perpetuate unutterable and remediless wrongs upon an innocent and long-suffer-

Let not the reader mistake the Loron bill for the McComas bili. The latter is a bill to continue in existence until further orders from Congress the congressional districts as they existed in the several States at the time of the last general elections for members of the House of Representatives. Strange to say, this bill is expected to be defeated in the same House of Representatives which is expected to pass the Lonor bill. The northern congressmen realize that the McComas bill would tie the hands of Republican State Legislatures as well as of Democratic State Legislatures, and as the sole and selfish and unpatriotic object of all Republican legislation is to refill the pockets of Republican millionaires or to get Republican millionaires into the United States Senate and House of Representatives the present House of Representatives may decline to carry out fully the rascally programme laid down for that body by Quay & Co. long before Congress met.

As at present advised, we cannot prononnce the Loroz bill unconstitutional. Perhaps a full discussion of its features may prove the unconstitutionality of some of them. Congress cer ainly has the power to fix the "times, places, and manner" of peas by a mob. to fix the "times, places, and manner" of holding elections for either senators or representatives. For years a law has been ment of Federal deputy-marshals and supervisors of elections for members of the House of Representatives; and this law has been held to be constitutional. Congress has also fixed the "time" for the election of representatives—the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November. It has also provided that the "manner" of the state Board of Charities.

It has also provided that the "manner" of the first Monday in November. It has also provided that the "manner" of the first Monday in November. It has also provided the the provided with the ce, flour, and the biggest attempts to the biggest attempts at fraud It has also provided that the "manner" of such elections shall be by ballot The Lopge bill proposes to fix the "place" of such elections. But the districting of the several States could hardly be said to be adthorized by the word "time," or the word "place," or the word "manner"possibly the last word would be held to authorize districting by those who desire to district the States in the interest of the Republican party.

The reader will of course not expect a Republican Congress to reject a bill be-cause of unconstitutionality. The body that passed the unconstitutional reconstruction acts and the unconstitutional reconstitutional civil-rights act (pronounced unconstitutional by the Republican Supreme Court and on Tuesday, April 29th, they will give a reception in honor of the army, navy, and marine corps. A week later a reception to the public will be given. to defeat any partisan measure which promises party advantages.

The illiterate negro voter will allow the "inspector" to prepare his ballot for him, as the Lopge bill provides, and will be proud to boast that he has under such cir-cumstances east his ballot for his Republicumstances cast his ballot for his Republican masters. The illiterate white voter will not be so manageable. When the payment of a poll-tax was in this State a prerequisite to voting, the negroes gladly allowed that tax to be paid for them by their Republican masters; but many white voters refused to allow the capitation-lax to be paid for them. So it will be under the to be paid for them. So it will be under the LODGE law. The negroes have no feeling of self-respect which will cause them to stay away from the ballot-bex rather than expose their illiteracy; but many of the whites will be kept at home by their unwillingness to tell the inspector that they cannot read.

Saturday morning Charles Shaffer and Ida Conrod wers found lying in the snow in an open field near Weston, W. Va. Both were unconscious, and the woman's body was so badly frozen that it had begun to turn black. They were put in charge of the physicians and Shaffer's life may be saved, but the woman is dead. How they came to be out all night is unknown.

South—the petition provided for by the Longs bill will get that many signatures and thus cause the congressional elections to be placed under Federal control. The Republicans no doubt hope that in the night from a trip to Washington. northern States the necessary number of signatures will not be forthcoming. Lodge's Election SHLL.—The supreme objection to Henry Cabot Lodge's Federal election bill is that it is another step in the algerous direction of centralization at Washington.

For a hundred years the conduct of consistency of the people opposed to it.

There is no public reason for abandoning the tradition or policy in this matter. It is only considerations of the narrowest partisanship which prompt the proposal to abandon it. This is the second objection to the bill. It is not a device of statesmanship intended to promote the general good, but a trick of partisanship by which a minority party, temporarily in control, hopes to retain power with a majority of the people opposed to it.
